

Adriatic, Hurrying
In After Explosion,
Will Dock To-day

Radio From Captain Says
Condition of One Victim
Is Grave, While Two Others Are Improving

The last word received yesterday at the offices of the White Star Line from the Adriatic was that everything was well with the vessel and that she was expected to dock this afternoon about 5:30 o'clock.

Early yesterday morning Captain H. F. David reported by wireless that the Adriatic was 603 miles west of Ambrose Channel and that the condition of one of the men, Donnelly, who was injured by the explosion, was grave. Two others of the wounded, Hawley and McCarthy, he said, were improving.

Officials of the line were of the opinion that since Captain David did not mention the fire in his message it must have been extinguished. Had it not been, they declared, the Adriatic's commander would have transferred his passengers to one of the several passenger liners now near the vessel, weather conditions being reported favorable to such a move.

This early message indicated that the Adriatic had made 391 miles since last giving her position on Friday evening.

The White Star offices, at 1 Broadway, were deluged yesterday with telephone calls from business concerns and relatives of passengers seeking information as to the Adriatic's condition and time of arrival. A special information department was set up to handle the inquiries. Very few persons called personally, however, much to the officials' surprise.

Sheddy Makes Progress
On Ship Finance Plan

Will Meet Managing Agents in Washington Tuesday on Allowance for Supplies

The standing committee of managing agents will meet at the Shipping Board offices in Washington on Tuesday to reach a final settlement on the allowance to be made to operators of government vessels for deck and engine room supplies. Mr. Shedy added that the Board would have one figure to present, and that the managing agents, who have made an independent study, would give a figure. The board has found, Mr. Shedy said, that in some instances one company would pay twice as much for stores as another. The expenditures on fifty ships have been analyzed.

It was learned from Mr. Shedy that the board had yet to pass upon the plan to permit the operators to spend up to $5,000 on repairs on a freight ship and $10,000 on a passenger ship upon their own responsibility, subject to checking later by the board.

The fuel conservation department, established to work out economical methods of coal and oil consumed on government vessels, was making rapid progress, Mr. Shedy said. Six men have begun the compilation of data upon which recommendations will be based.

Dry Enforcement Launch
Catches Fire and Sinks

Three Men Leap Into Bay and
Cling to Rudder of Steamer
Until Rescued

The 50-foot launch Lieutenant Kelly, a unit of the prohibition navy, was sunk last night after catching fire off Moravia's drydock, Fifty-ninth Street, later, when three men were aboard leaped into the bay, swam to the stern of a tramp steamer anchored near by and hung on to her rudder cables until picked up by a tugboat.

The Lieutenant Kelly had been investigating reports of rum running in small motor boats, and was on her way to Pier 15, Brooklyn, when flames from the engine ignited oil in the bilges. The boat was afire within two minutes. Customs Inspectors Edward J. Connors and R. Howell and Prohibition Officer Charles Murphy found it impossible to speed the boat to shore and jumped overboard.

Workmen from the drydock tried to save the launch by pumping water into the boat, but it was too late.

Boy Scouts' Chef Drowned

Jersey Lake Being Dragged for Campers' Negro Friend

BUTLER, N. J., Aug. 12.—Van Wyck Lake, off Camp Apshawa, where thirty Boy Scouts from northern New Jersey are spending the summer, is being dragged to-day for the body of "Happy" Tom Jones, the camp's expert negro chef, who also officiated as canoeist and "all round good fellow" to the youngsters. He is believed to have been drowned last night while preparing for a canoe trip.

Tom was a great favorite with the boys. He was last seen when he returned to shore with a passenger who had forgotten something. When the latter returned to the water's edge he found the canoe overturned, the paddles in the water near by, but no trace of Tom.

The camp is on property donated for the Boy Scout series of summer camps by Philip E. Van Wyck, of Summit, whose summer home is near by.

Ford Offer "Unconscionable"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Henry Ford's offer for the Muscle Shoals projects was declared "unconscionable" by Senator Harrell, of Oklahoma, a Republican member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, in a letter to-day to Grady Silver, of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Three Children Figure
In "Dry" Activities

One Boy of 11 Arrested and
Two Youngsters Cause Arrest of Their Mother

Children figured peculiarly yesterday in the activities of prohibition enforcement agents.

Irzy Einstein, arrested an eleven-year-old boy in Saratoga on the charge of selling liquor. At the same time two other boys, ten and twelve years old, made a complaint against their mother, who was arrested in a moonshine distillery at Nutley, N. J.

Einstein, Moe Smith and other Federal dry crusaders reported by wire to prohibition headquarters here that they had successfully raided numerous places at Saratoga. Summons were left, they said, at the United States, Grand Union and Adelphi hotels and Lake View Clean.

At Mechanicville, near Saratoga, Einstein said he bought liquor over the bar from Alfred Salvador, eleven years old. He arrested the boy and his father, John Salvador. The youngster probably will be tried in children's court, which will establish a precedent in prohibition cases.

James and Dominic Albano, twelve and ten years old, reported to the police of Nutley, N. J., that they had been locked out of their home and deserted by their mother for the last twenty-four hours. They directed officers to a house where Mrs. Mary Albano was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct. A fifty-gallon still, 100 gallons of alcohol and twelve bottles of whiskey were seized at the place, the police say, and Anthony Sarago, who lived there, also was arrested.
